

Little Hazel and Wally Nut do NOT want to go to bed, but Mama Nut insists that it is time! When the kids don't listen and Mama gets frustrated, the kids are left with a big and very important question for their Mama: "Are we still your sweet little nuts?"
What do you think?

Watch a video of the author, Eric Litwin, reading/singing the book:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wrsDnjv_1BA

Family Conversation Starters

- Does anyone in your house ever have a hard time going to bed when they're supposed to?
- How does Mama reassure Hazel and Wally after she tucks them in bed?
- Family members can make each other mad—but they still love each other. How does your family show love after an argument?

Remember that Jesus loves you, too; and you'll always be a beloved child of God—no matter what!